28 PSALM XXIV.
The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof, the world, and they that dwell therein. For he hath founded the earth upon the waters, and established it upon the floods. The Lord hath chosen Sion, and hath loved it: he hath said, My habitation shall be there, and I will dwell, for I have desired it. I will choose it for ever, and I will dwell there: for I have desired it. I will build me a habitation there, and I will dwell there: for I have desired it. I will build me a habitation there, and I will dwell there: for I have desired it.

29 PSALM XXV.
In the Lord I have trusted, and he shall answer me, and shall deliver me from all mine iniquities. Incline not thy face from me, O Lord, and when I call, answer me speedily. For my soul is full of trouble, and my heart is vexed to death. I have thought of mine iniquities, and how mine iniquities have brought me to death, and how mine iniquities have brought me to death.

30 PSALM XXVI.
Do not rebuke me for mine iniquity, O Lord, nor chastise me for mine unrighteousness. For mine iniquities are many, and mine iniquities have brought me to death, and how mine iniquities have brought me to death. Do not rebuke me for mine iniquity, O Lord, nor chastise me for mine unrighteousness. For mine iniquities are many, and mine iniquities have brought me to death, and how mine iniquities have brought me to death.

31 PSALM XXVII.
The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear?

32 PSALM XXVIII.
When I call, O Lord, answer me, and when I trouble myself, hear my voice. When I call, O Lord, answer me, and when I trouble myself, hear my voice. When I call, O Lord, answer me, and when I trouble myself, hear my voice. When I call, O Lord, answer me, and when I trouble myself, hear my voice.

It has been said that the world is a stage, and that every man and woman is but a player upon it. The stage is the world, and the players are the people who live upon it. The world is a vast and wonderful place, and it is full of many things that are good and beautiful. It is a place where we can find love, joy, and peace, and where we can learn many things that are true and wise. It is a place where we can grow and improve ourselves, and where we can make a difference in the lives of others.
